'Eddie the Eagle' star soars

Hugh Jackman, star of the upcoming movie "Eddie the Eagle", received a civic leader flight in an F-16 here from the 301st Fighter Wing Feb. 19 in a display of Air Force Reserve combat capability and air superiority. "This is kind of a dream come true," Jackman said before the flight. "I'm very, very excited, a little nervous and I'm fully aware how lucky I am to have this opportunity." Click here for more

Honorary commanders make history

The 301st Fighter Wing inducted seven community leaders as honorary commanders Feb. 6 in a historic event here. The 301 FW implemented an Honorary Commanders Program, called "Wings of Honor", for the first time in history. The program is designed to increase public awareness and understanding of the wing's mission by pairing a civic leader with a unit commander. Read more

Reaching the summit

The 301st Fighter Wing announced their 2015 award winners during a formal banquet Feb. 20 held at the Fort Worth Stockyards, Texas. The banquet, held once a year, publicly celebrates the accomplishments of nominees and honors them for the commitment, devotion, and loyalty they've shown to their professions. Read more

Airmen compete with bombs

The F-16 Fighting Falcon has proved itself in combat, but without weapons, it loses the capability to do what it's made for - to drop bombs on targets. This is why it's important to have people who specialize in weapons loading. Read more

Hugh Jackman F-16 Flight (raw footage)

Hugh Jackman flies in the 457th Fighter Squadron's F-16 Fighting Falcon at Naval Air Station Fort Worth Joint Reserve Base. Jackman and Taron Egerton, stars of Eddie the Eagle, along with film director Dexter Fletcher, met with service members, prior to a free screening of the movie at the base theater.

301 FW holds weapons load competition

The 301st Fighter Wing's mission is to train and deploy combat-ready Airmen. Part of that training took place in the form of a weapons-load competition Feb. 7. It was a total TFI event as Air Reserve Technicians, active duty and traditional reservists competed for the coveted title of best weapons load crew.
